The Era

Or what was it actually like in those days?

The 356-he already was 15 years very successful as a top product of German sports car art on the German and international markets , as in 1963 its last expansion stage was presented as version C. Consistently maintaining the overall conception and the captivating form, there were only small, barely perceptible changes compared to the B variant. Most important technical and visual change: It now carried standard disc brakes on all wheels.

The Condition

Or how it really is. Original, given a facelift or fully restored?

The vehicle has completely been restored frame off. When its getting sold sold, a one-year warranty is granted. In the classic color silver metallic in conjunction with the discreet chrome trim and chrome rims, the typical Porscheform comes out particularly well: the Coupe looks elegant and sporty at the same time.

The performance

or what was it like to drive

The 356 specialist Werner Otto from Lohmar near Cologne formulated in 1986 in the Motor Klassik, compared to the successor model 911,: "The 356 is more connected to the road. One has the feeling with the butt over the road to grind. Even in a 356 Coupe, a sense of freedom affects me like on a motorcycle. " The vehicle is in a very good technical and optical condition and has the typical performance and driving characteristics. In this equipment a vehicle for the value-conscious athletic driver / driver and / or for a quality-oriented collection
